

Small Business of the Year Nomination Form

The Greater Bluefield Chamber of Commerce's Small Business of the Year Award is given to a business that demonstrates growth, development and support of employees, and community service. This award winner is a Chamber member in good standing. The following are the criteria upon which the award is chosen:

1. Growth in number of employees – a benchmark to judge the impact of the business on the job market.
2. Increase in sales and/or unit volume – an indication of continued growth over the last three years.
3. Employee Development – demonstrable support for employee growth and development.
4. Community Service – evidence of the use of his/her personal time and resources to support the betterment of the community. In addition, this nominee should also support employee involvement in community service.
